FOIA No. 2011-352

Dear Mr. Smathers:

This letter responds to your recent Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request received by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC or Commission) and assigned to the Consumer & Governmental Affairs Bureau (CGB) by the Commission's FOIA Office on May 5, 2011. Your request seeks copies of all complaints received at the FCC regarding the "Trinity Broadcasting Network" (TBN) or any television show on TBN between January 2001 and the present.

Arthur Scrutchins of my staff conducted a search of the databases in which we maintain the records of informal complaints filed by, or on behalf of, consumers. The search identified fourteen complaints responsive to your request. According to the Commission's Records Control Schedule for Informal Complaints ("Records Control Schedule"), the Commission is not required to maintain informal complaints and related correspondence for more than three years after the case is closed. See NI-173-07-1, FCC Disposition Authority. Therefore, all complaint records prior to January 1, 2008, have been purged pursuant to the Records Control Schedule. Copies of the complaints are enclosed.

Mr. Scrutchins redacted all personal identifying information relating to the individuals who submitted or are named in the enclosed complaints or inquiries based on Exemption 6 of FOIA, which permits agencies not to disclose files that would clearly invade personal privacy.<sup>1</sup> Mr. Scrutchins also redacted some FCC employee names based on Exemption 2 of FOIA, which permits agencies not to disclose internal personnel rules and practices.<sup>2</sup>

The FCC receives many complaints and comments that do not involve violations of the Communications Act or any FCC rule or order. Thus, a complaint or comment does not necessarily indicate any wrongdoing by any individuals or entities named in the complaint or comment.

FOIA and FCC rules require the FCC to charge requesters for time spent searching for and reviewing responsive documents, and for copying them.<sup>3</sup> Based on your classification as a representative of the news media, you are responsible only for the payment of duplication costs beyond the first 100 pages. Because preparing the response to your request falls within this limit, the FCC is not charging you for processing it.

If you think this response denies your FOIA request, you may file an application for review of this decision with the FCC's Office of the General Counsel within 30 days.<sup>4</sup> Both the application and envelope containing it must be marked "Review of Freedom of Information Action" and the application should refer to FOIA Control No. 2011-352.

Sincerely,

Kurt A. Schroeder
Deputy Chief, Consumer Policy Division
Consumer Governmental Affairs Bureau

Dear consumer: You should direct all concerns and/or comments about a specific broadcast or statement, in writing, to the local station and network involved so that the people responsible for making programming decisions can become better informed about audience opinion.

The FCC is barred by the First Amendment to the United States Constitution from trying to prevent the broadcast of any point of view, no matter how unpopular or distasteful that point of view may be to most people.

The FCC cannot interfere with a broadcaster's selection and presentation of material for the news and/or its commentary.

The Communications Act and First Amendment to the Constitution prohibit any action by the FCC that would interfere with free speech in broadcasting.

The Communications Act prohibits the FCC from censoring broadcast material, except when that material is obscene. Thank you.

Good day, or evening, depending on when this reaches you,

I am rather annoyed with the Trinity Broadcasting Network. They spin the truth and attempt to rewrite history, and furthermore, One of their branching programs, Smile of a Child, seems to be blatant proselytizing to young children, particularly those in school. I feel pushing religious values on such young children is very wrong. Please consider censoring the Trinity Broadcasting Network.

Problem Description

My grandson and I were starting to watch a Trinity Broadcasting Network film, titled 'Hidden Secrets', which displayed a G Rating in the opening credits. During these credits there was a definitive scene showing a man holding a gun to his head, in silhouette, from the back at the very beginning of the film. The image was very graphic and up close the actor's head filled almost the entire screen. The viewer Rating for a such an image should no be 'G', for General audiences. I am very upset that suicide imagery was shown to a 'G' audience, and that my grandson had to see that. What were they thinking? I am furious!

Dear FCC:

I wish to express a complaint with regard to the Trinity Broadcasting Network. In my opinion, this television network is fraught with questionable moral standards with regard to fund-raising, financial management and accounting, content issues, honesty and integrity. Some of the speakers and presenters on this network make false claims, state opinion as fact, and make unjustified and unsupported statements with regard to religion, theology, philosophy and morality -- hence potentially causing harm to the general public. I sincerely question the broadcasting integrity of TBN and therefore wish to express this complaint to the FCC.

I am wondering why TBN Trinity Broadcast Network which is a free broadcast Station, is only available to Comcast Customers ( Visalia, California) for a fee, and is not apart of the basic cable package. I am a Christian and I grew up with TBN on Free Broadcast Analog TV, and if it is free tv, then Comcast should not be allowed to charge extra for it. I feel that we are being ripped off and I feel that Comcast is being unfair by offering KNXT Ch 9 which is a Catholic Channel and is a basic cable channel, but yet they are charging for a free broadcast Christian Channel. I have contacted Comcast and they told me to contact the FCC, so I am contacting the FCC, Comcast and TBN to see how we can get this station included in basic cable.

Thank you. b6

Good Morning,

COMPLAINTS, COMMENTS, AND INQUIRIES TO THE FCC. We give full consideration to the comments and inquiries we receive about broadcasting. As stated above, we encourage you to first contact the station or network directly about programming issues. If your concerns are not resolved this way, you can mail, fax, or e-mail a complaint about a radio or TV station to us at the following address:

Federal Communications Commission
Enforcement Bureau
445 12th St., SW
Washington, D.C. 20554
Fax: (202)-418-2810
Telephone number: (202) 418-7450

You should generally include the following information in your complaint:

- (1) the call letters of the station;
- (2) the city and state where the station is located;
- (3) the name, time, and date of the specific program or advertisement in question, if applicable;
- (4) the name of anyone contacted at the station, if applicable; and
- (5) a statement of the problem, as specific as possible, together with an audio or video tape or transcript of the program or advertisement (if possible).

Please include your name and address if you would like information on the final disposition of your complaint; however, you may request confidentiality. We prefer that you submit complaints in writing, although you may submit complaints that are time-sensitive by telephone, especially if they involve safety. Please be aware that we can only act on allegations that a station has violated a provision of the Communications Act or the FCC's rules or policies.

In addition to (or instead of) filing a complaint, you can file a petition to deny an application that a station has filed, such as a license renewal application. (This is discussed earlier in the manual). For further information on filing a petition to deny an application, please consult our rules or contact an attorney. You may read our rules online on our home page at www.fcc.gov. [from MB webpage 6/8/2005]

I have many doubts about this network with all of the begging that they do.

How is this money spent?

Maybe your office should look into this. I feel that they are miss using the public air waves in the name of religion for self gain.

Thank you.
